SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 26.

AFFAIRS IN THE ARMY.

The latest intelligence from the front to-day left everything quiet there. A heavy reconnoissance into Culpeper developed the fact that no considerable body of rebels are this side the Rapidan. The belief was general that Lee would not venture an offensive movement. A report prevailed to-day at the front that Lee was removing his heavy artillery to Richmond.

REPORTED MOVEMENTS OF THE ENEMY.

The reported advance of the enemy toward Warrenton was caused by the falling back of Gen. Gregg's Division to Three Mile Station for military purposes. There is no foundation for the current rumor that Longstreet's force is in Thoroughfare Gap.

REBEL CAVALRY REVIEW.

Fitzhugh Lee's Division was reviewed to-day by Gen. Stuart at Hampton's Crossing, just below Fredericksburgh. Wickham's, Lomax's and W. H. F. Lee's Brigades were in line.

DESERTERS.

Deserters are again coming into our lines freely. At one point the average number during a week past has been eight per day principally from the Forty-second and Fifteenth Virginia Regiments.

ARMY CORRESPONDENTS IN DISTRESS.

A number of army correspondents, availing themselves of the hiatus in military affairs to recuperate in Washington, were much disgusted yesterday at finding an order had been issued barring their return to the Army of the Potomac.

THE SITUATION IN LOUISIANA.

A distinguished officer in the army of Gen. Banks—an officer who has been in many battles in Virginia, in Tennessee and at the Southwest—says, in a letter received here, that the fighting at Pleasant Hill on the 9th and 9th inst. was the severest he ever was in. There was great bloodshed in that important branch of the art of war which consists in the handling of transportation—the descendants of Cæsar.

BURNSIDE'S COMMAND.

Washington was all agog, Monday, at the passage through its streets of Burnsides's army, on its way from Annapolis. The veterans of so many hard-fought fields were hailed everywhere with shouts of welcome. President Lincoln, together with Gen. Dix, Gen. Cullum and others, from the balcony at Willard's, reviewed the column as it passed by. Regiment after regiment, tattered and torn by rebel bullets at Roanoke, Cedar Mountain, Fredericksburgh, South Mountain, Antietam, Vicksburgh, and other hard-fought fields, attested the fury of the ordeal through which they have passed. Not the least welcome greeting received was that of the negro brigade—five thousand strong—well drilled, formidable soldiers. The movement has filled the city with a thousand absurd and conflicting rumors.

GEN. FOSTER TO HAVE A COMMAND.

Gen. Foster this morning made application to the War Department for active command in the field. He will probably be assigned to a position under Gen. Burnside.

THE DISASTER AT PLYMOUTH.

There is no excuse to be offered by the naval officials for the disaster at Plymouth. It is known that as early as August Commander Flusser sent information to the Navy Department of the building of a rebel ram on Roanoke River, and expressed his fears of her. No heed was paid to the warning, and we now have the result before us.

ARRIVAL FROM FREDERICKSBURGH.

SARAH REYNOLDS, a middle-aged woman, arrived at Brandy Station on the 23d, having walked from Fredericksburgh, which place she left on Monday the 19th. She says that the city contains but few inhabitants, and that there are no troops in that neighborhood. She came by way of Grove Church, and did not encounter any rebel pickets. She says that the remaining residents of the city and Falmouth look for the return of our army to that neighborhood at an early date, and sincerely to be wished for—as a means by which to avoid starvation.

THE PAY AND SERVICE OF THE MILITIA.

In order to relieve the Treasury from as much unnecessary expenditure as possible, the time of service for the hundred thousand men offered by the Governors of the Northwest was changed from six months to one hundred days. To-day Senator WILSON reported a bill from the Military Committee appropriating twenty-five millions of dollars to pay them. The bill requires that they must be mustered in by regiments before any pay shall be allowed. The matter is before the Finance Committee, and will be probably reported to the Senate to-morrow.

THE INCOME TAX.

The adoption of Mr. FRANK's amendment to the Tax Bill to-day, increasing duty on incomes, will add $60,000,000 to the revenue. It places a tax of five per cent. on all incomes exceeding $600, and not exceeding $10,000; seven and a half per cent. on all between $10,000 and $20,000, and ten per cent. on all over $20,000.

THE TEMPORARY INCREASE ON TARIFF DUTIES.

Before any definite action is had upon the House proposition to increase the duties on all imports fifty per cent., a conference respecting its merits will be sought by the Senate Finance Committee with Mr. CHASE. Many members regard MORRILL's schedule of duties as much preferable for the Government, and it may yet be adopted as a substitute in the present bill.

THE SITE FOR THE NEW NAVY-YARD.

The consideration of the selection of a site for a new navy-yard on the Atlantic coast will most probably be postponed until next session, there being a indisposition to involve at this time so heavy expenditure as such an establishment will incur.

REVOKING OF ADMIRAL DAHLGREN'S ORDER.

Admiral DAHLGREN will leave Washington for the course of a few days, to resume command of the fleet off Charleston.

PERSONAL.

Vice-President HAMLIN and family leave to-morrow evening for a short visit to Maine.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 26.

THE BLOCKADE.

The Navy Department has received information of the capture of the schooner Three Brothers by the steamer Nile, off the coast of Florida, and the sinking and entire loss of the blockade-running schooner Wild Pigeon. It seems that the Wild Pigeon, by the steamer Kendrick Hudson, who supposed her to be the Electra, a schooner she had boarded the day previously, but which was kept on her, and as the Hudson neared her she said she was a blockade-runner. She suddenly steered across the Hudson's bows, and, in spite of all that could be done, the Hudson struck her directly amidships, staving the whole side in, and sinking her in three minutes. All the crew came aboard the Hudson except one man, who jumped overboard and drowned. The damage to the Hudson was very slight. The Wild Pigeon was bound to St. Marks under rebel papers, and the rebel flag on board.

CAPTURE OF A GUERRILLA.

Yesterday, Capt. WM. R. RIDDLE, of the Sixth Regiment Veteran Reserve Corps, discovered a man lurking in the vicinity of Laurel, Maryland, about eighteen miles on the Baltimore road, under very suspicious circumstances. The Captain arrested him, and upon being questioned he gave his name as Lieut. Geo. Turner, of Mosby's guerrillas. He was brought to this city this morning and committed to prison.

THE TEN-FORTY LOAN.

The subscriptions to the ten-forty loan, reported at the Treasury to-day, amount to $607,000.

THE HAMMOND COURT-MARTIAL.

The Hammond Court-martial has adjourned till the 3d of May, in order to enable the accused to prepare his argument. His friends express the utmost confidence that he will be acquitted.

NAVAL ASSIGNMENTS.

Lieut.-Commander D. HAYES has been ordered to the command of the Tallapoosa.

DESPERATE AFFRAY BETWEEN INDIAN WARRIORS.

A desperate encounter occurred today between HOLE-IN-THE-DAY, Chief of the Chippeways, and LOOK-AROUND, one of his young warriors. The latter fired a pistol, the ball entering near the right eye of the Chief, passing round his head and coming out of his mouth. He lies in a critical condition. LOOK-AROUND had his face injured with a pocket-knife in the hands of HOLE-IN-THE-DAY.

THE GOODYEAR PATENT.

The proceedings before the House Committee on Patents, relating to the application of the Goodyear India Rubber patent, have excited much interest here during the past week. The case was argued on the part of the commissioner by six gentlemen, four of them representing manufacturers, and Messrs. HARVEZEN, of Massachusetts, and GOODYEAR, of Pennsylvania, representing the railroad interests of New-England, Pennsylvania and other States. JAMES T. BRADY, of New-York, concluded the argument yesterday on the part of the applicant.

PROGRESS OF THE TAX BILL.

The House have so far progressed with the Internal Revenue Bill that it is expected they will finish it or at the remaining provisions to-morrow.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 26.

TWELFTH RETIRING OF NAVAL OFFICERS.

Mr. HALE, of New-Hampshire, (Union,) introduced a bill to amend the act to provide for the efficiency of the navy, which provides that no officer shall be retired under the age of sixty-two, and whose name shall not have been borne upon the Navy Register forty-five years after the age of sixteen. Referred to the Naval Committee.

THE JUDICIARY DISTRICTS OF VIRGINIA.

Mr. TED ETON, of New-Jersey, (Union,) reported from the Judiciary Committee a bill changing and defining the boundaries of the Eastern and Western Judiciary Districts of Virginia. The two districts are made coextensive with the States of Virginia and West Virginia; the court of the latter to hold six sessions annually—at Clarksburgh March 24, and Aug. 24; at Wheeling, April 6 and Sept. 6; at Charleston, April 13 and Sept. 19.

THE PAYMENT OF THE NEW MILITIA BOUNDS.

Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, (Union,) introduced the following joint resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Finance:

Resolved, That the sum of $[illegible] be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for arming, equipping, clothing, subsisting, transporting and paying volunteers that may be received by the President for any time not less than 100 days after their muster into service by regiments.

INCREASE OF THE NUMBER OF CADETS.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to increase the number of cadets in the army, and for other purposes. It provides that the number of cadets at the Military Academy shall not exceed four hundred. The President may appoint in addition to the number of cadets, heretofore authorized by law, two cadets for each State represented in Congress, who shall be sons or wards of the States from which they are appointed. All appointments of cadets not otherwise provided for by law, shall be made from the military service of the United States, from enlisted men or volunteers. But no person shall be appointed a cadet under the provisions of this section who shall not have served honorably for the period of twelve months; provided the total number of cadets appointed in any year shall not exceed one hundred and fifty. No person to be admitted as a cadet who shall be less than seventeen or more than twenty years of age on the first of July in the year of his admission, except such persons as are provided for from the regular and volunteer forces, in above-mentioned, who shall not be less than seventeen or more than twenty years of age on the first of July in the year of their admission. No person hereafter to be admitted as a cadet until he shall have passed a full and satisfactory examination in the branches prescribed. Referred to the Military Committee.

POSTAL MONEY ORDER SYSTEM.

On motion of Mr. COLLAMER, the House bill establishing a postal money order system was called up, and after amendments, passed.

THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE.

He also called up the Senate resolution in relation to franked matter. It permits all communications of whatsoever origin to be received by the heads of Executive Departments and Chiefs of Bureaus, where entitled to the franking privilege, without being indorsed "official business," but with the name of the writer thereon. Passed.

RELIEF OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN.

The bill for the relief of the State of Wisconsin was called up by Mr. DOOLITTLE as unfinished business, and made the special order for Monday next.

THE NATIONAL CURRENCY BILL.

Mr. SHERMAN, of Ohio, (Union,) called up the special order, the House bill to provide a national currency, secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof.

Mr. SHERMAN explained that this bill repealed the act of the last Congress, though nearly all the provisions of that bill are contained in this one. The amendments are mainly as to details to give efficiency to the measure. The chief differences are, first, that the bill of last year required banks organized under the act to redeem their own notes at their own counters, but this bill makes certain chief cities where the notes of different banks are to be redeemed in addition. The second change was in regard to taxation, there having been some doubts as to whether the banks were to be liable to both the Government and State tax. In this bill that matter is clearly defined. The third and fourth changes are in regard to State banks improving the system by which old banks may come in under the law, and rendering stockholders individually liable to an extent equal to the amount of their stock. The fifth change is as regards interest, but the Senate Committee proposed to strike out the uniform rate of seven per cent established in the House bill, and leave it much the same as in the old bill. The sixth change provides for the receipt of five per cent as well as six per cent bonds of the United States as a basis of circulation to be kept always at a margin of ten per cent on their market value. The seventh change allows the issue of notes of a less denomination than five dollars to the extent of one-fifth of their entire issue, such notes to be redeemed when specie payments are resumed.

The Senate proceeded to consider the bill reported by the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, the clause of the bill providing for the admission of the Bank of Commerce of New-York, was stricken out and amended so as to read: "Except that the shareholders of any banking association having not less than five millions of dollars of capital stock actually paid in, and a surplus of twenty per cent. on hand, shall be liable only to the amount invested in their shares, so long as the said surplus fund shall remain undiminished."

Mr. SHERMAN explained that this amendment was solely meant to apply to the Bank of Commerce of New-York City. It was important that this wealthy corporation should be allowed to come in under the provisions of this bill, as it had extended many favors to the Government. Under the provisions of the bill as it came from the House it would be excluded; and it was proposed to strike out the House clause and substitute this amendment.

Mr. HENDERSON, of Missouri, (Union,) opposed the whole banking system proposed by the bill. He considered it nothing but the revival of an exploded idea. The time would come when we would see the error of the present legislation. He opposed the conferring of more power upon the wealthy Bank of Commerce than it possessed, as it had already received a remuneration for all the favors it had done the Government.

The Senate Committee's amendment striking out the clause in the House bill allowing a State tax on the capital stocks of banks organized under this act, and providing that in lieu of all other taxes, every association should pay the Treasurer of the United States, in the months of January and July, a duty of one-half of one per centum each half year from and after the first day of January, 1864, upon the average amount of its notes in circulation, and a duty of one-quarter of one per centum each half year as aforesaid on the average amount of its capital stock beyond amount invested in United States bonds, was debated at some length by Messrs. CHANDLER and HENDERSON in opposition, and Messrs. SHERMAN and FESSENDEN in support of it.

Without action, the Senate, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 26.

THE MAINE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

The Speaker announced the following gentlemen as a Select Committee on the resolutions of the Legislature of Maine, asking for protection for the northeastern boundary of that State:

Mr. RICE, of Massachusetts.
Mr. ALLEY, of Massachusetts.
Mr. COX, of Ohio.
Mr. HALE, of Pennsylvania.
Mr. PATTERSON, of New-Hampshire.
Mr. RANDOLL, of New-York, and
Mr. DENISE, of Michigan.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE BILL.

The House went into Committee on the Internal Revenue Bill.

Mr. HOLMAN, of Indiana, (Dem.,) offered an amendment, which was rejected, proposing to tax four per cent. instead of two and a half, on gains, profits, or income which shall be derived from interest upon notes, bonds or securities of the United States.

Mr. HOLMAN offered another amendment, that income derived from the interest of notes, bonds or other securities of the United States, shall be included in the estimate of incomes under this section, which places the duty at five per centum on all over six hundred dollars.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, (Union,) inquired whether the gentleman desired to check investments?

Mr. HOLMAN replied that he did not, but if the House did not adopt the principle they would withdraw from taxation millions and millions of the capital of the country.

After further debate Mr. HOLMAN's amendment was adopted.

Mr. FRANK, of New-York, (Union,) offered an amendment providing that on incomes exceeding $600, and not more than $10,000, a tax of five per centum shall be imposed; on incomes of $10,000 and not exceeding $20,000, a tax of seven and a half per centum shall be imposed, and on incomes of over $20,000, a tax of ten per centum shall be imposed.

In support of this amendment Mr. FRANK said that the Committee on Ways and Means had, themselves, graduated taxation in this bill, which, in effect, was an argument in support of his proposition.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) said that this amendment would levy a tax as a punishment on men because they were rich, and he did not know but that there ought to be an indictment against every one who has an income of over ten thousand dollars, and that the tax ought to be from ten up to one hundred per centum. The rich man pays according to his riches, but beyond this is a punishment for a man's wealth.

Mr. FRANK repeated that the committee had themselves established the very principle of "graduated taxation," and he did not see what the gentleman (Stevens) had to complain of.

Mr. STEVENS replied that the committee put the tax on all alike who had incomes over $600 per annum. They made no distinction between one man and another because of the difference in their respective riches.

After further debate and various unsuccessful attempts to amend Mr. FRANK's amendment, it was adopted by yeas 72, nays 36.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, moved as an amendment, to tax the salaries of Members of Congress ten per centum, which was voted down by a large majority.

Many other amendments were offered and rejected, among them was one excluding the dividends of savings institutions from taxation.

The House, at 4½ o'clock, took a recess till 7 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

LAND CLAIMS IN THE TERRITORIES.

Mr. JULIAN, of Indiana, (Union,) reported from the Committee on Public Lands the Senate bill, which passed, with reference to the donation of land claims in Oregon and Washington Territory.

LAND AID FOR ROAD PURPOSES.

Mr. DEGEE, of Michigan, (Union,) from the same committee, reported a bill granting lands to that State for the construction of a wagon road for military and postal purposes.

After explanations, the bill passed.

Mr. DEGEE also reported a bill granting lands to Wisconsin for the construction of a military road to Lake Superior, which passed.

Mr. ALLISON, of Iowa, (Union,) from the same committee, reported a bill granting alternate sections of land for railroads in Iowa, and also for a railroad in Minnesota, from St. Paul to St. Anthony. Passed.

Mr. ALLISON also reported a bill authorizing Iowa to modify and change the location of railroads under the Land Grant Act of 1856.

The House passed the following Senate bill:

A bill granting lands to the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad Company; and a bill granting lands to Wisconsin for Railroad purposes.

Mr. SHERMAN, of New-York, (Dem.,) said he would like to know how much land we had left, after the extensive grants made to-night.

The Speaker replied that he was unable to say.

Mr. KERMAN was apprehensive that there would not be enough left for the soldiers.

HOMESTEADS FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Mr. JULIAN, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to secure to settlers and soldiers homesteads on forfeited and confiscated lands, pending which the House adjourned at 9½ o'clock.

A CORRECTION.

It was Representative AUGUSTUS FRANK, of New-York, and not Mr. FINCK as was erroneously stated in Monday's report of the proceedings of the House of Representatives, on whose motion the House adopted an amendment taxing sales of gold and silver bullion, and coin, sterling exchange, promissory notes, bonds, or other securities one-tenth of one per cent. on the amount of sales, and upon all contracts for such sales.

IDAHO EMIGRATION.

Fitting Out—High Prices—Backward Season.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

NEBRASKA CITY, N. T., Tuesday, April 19, 1864.

Having "turned up" in this region, I send you a few items regarding the emigration to the new gold fields of Idaho, which makes this and the neighboring City of Omaha its chief starting points. This place contains about 4,000 inhabitants, and trade is in a flourishing condition, with prices most abominably high, and going higher every day. The emigration is immense, and the demand for teams and wagons very great. Mules are worth from $250 to $350 per team; oxen from $65 to $200 per yoke; wagons from $140 to $160 each, with covers. Cattle are considered preferable for emigrants to either horses or mules, because they do better on grass, make the trip just as quick, and are more eatable in the mines for beef, after recruiting in the mountains. The season is very backward, and teams starting before the 10th of May will have to feed their teams as far as Fort Kearney. I shall journey that way before long, and try the difference between sleeping under canvas on these broad prairies, and doing the same thing in the overreaching land of Virginia, as the "special" of a New-York dailer. THE SURRENDER OF PLYMOUTH.

A Startling Rumor—Gen. Wessells and His Forces Still Holding Out—Preparations to Meet the Rebels—Obituaries of Commander Flusser.

NEWBERN, Saturday, April 23.

Reports from Plymouth have it that our flag still floats over our fortifications in that place, though the enemy have possession of the town and river. It is said that Gen. WESSELS retired with his force into the fortifications with 8 days' provisions. This report appears to be believed. On the arrival of more gunboats we shall be able to reach Plymouth and ascertain the facts.

Washington and Newbern are much stronger fortified than Plymouth was; with a few more troops and gunboats, which are said to be on the way, they can be held against all the rebels that can present themselves.

The funeral obsequies of Commander FLUSSER took place here on the 23d inst. It was the most affecting and imposing demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in North Carolina. The city was draped in mourning and all business suspended. Hearsemes were lavished in Newbern with distinguished honors.

ARRIVAL OF THE TEACHERS OF THE FREEDMAN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION AT NORFOLK CITY.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Your publication of these facts will relieve the fears for their safety in the minds of their many friends.

FROM MOBILE DIRECT.

Arrival of an Intelligent Foreigner—How he got Off—Two Rams in Mobile Bay.

From the Freedmen's Journal of April 26.

We had a call on Saturday from Mr. SAMUEL R. SCHOOLS, a young man who formerly resided here, but who has been at the South ever since the year before the war. He has been located at Mobile, but his business has called him to every principal city of the "Confederacy." For a time after the rebellion broke out, his age exempted him from military service. When his foreign consuls were driven out, he had no longer any protection, and dent a substitute into the army. By and by a change in the law compelled his substitute to serve in the army, on his own account, and young SCHOOLS was compelled to put another soldier into the field. His investment in substitutes altogether was $6,000. Recently, when the law was so changed as to call out every white man between the ages of 17 and 55 years, he made up his mind to leave his business and the Confederacy, a matter of the utmost difficulty to accomplish. Eight weeks ago he succeeded in a mystical manner in getting a pass to go 40 miles from Mobile, the extreme limit for which passes were granted under the most urgent circumstances. Thence he passed through the lines, occupying two weeks in getting 40 miles, traveling principally by night. He eventually reached Holly Springs, and then cleared for the river via Memphis.

Mr. SCHOOLS reports Mobile as strongly defended as to be regarded as almost impregnable. He thinks it to be vulnerable only to a force coming from Pensacola. The bay is defended by two rams, one the Tennessee, very formidable, four iron-clads and two floating batteries. Every white man is a soldier in some capacity. There is considerable peace-at-any-price sentiment in Mobile, but the majority of the people look hopefully to ultimate independence. In the country regions a fierce determination to fight to the last is manifested. There is but scarcity of provisions in Mobile; the rations currently only healthy, the prices ground high. As all kinds of wages have gone up with the currency, little hardship is felt in consequence, except by the soldiers and their families, the Government pay being unchanged and hardly sufficient to keep the men in shirts. He gave $1,000 in rebel currency for $100 in gold. Greenbacks are eagerly taken, the rate being one to eleven. Trade was very active, and many people were making money. Blockade-running and fitting out steamships PARRAGUT appeared at Green's Pass. During a recent visit to Charleston, he found the result of the bombardment less serious than he had been led to expect.

C. L. CORY, sworn—Am engineer in the United States navy; knew Wiley on the Pawnee; he left ship ninety-six hours; did not notice anything wrong except that she fired her water slightly, but not sufficient to inconvenience the working of the ship; the water-gauge is not a true indicator of the water in the boiler, if the boiler roamed; a gauge must indicate two and a half cocks, and the boilers may have more or less; put the Brooklyn's boilers were the same as the Chenango's; have had about fifteen or sixteen months' experience with the Martin boiler, and do not know that they require more care than other marine boilers; a foaming is hardly felt on marine or other patterns; the most prominent cause of foaming are caused by the different waters—salt and fresh—the latter foaming more than the former; then the other; it is rather more difficult to keep a fresh supply of water that foams than any other; have always felt safe; never had sufficient trouble to make me fear otherwise; think the boilers of the Chenango had been injured by cold water pressure, making it unequal to the test intended for it; would consider myself safe with a boiler that had stood a pressure of 60 pounds cold water at the steam pressure of 30 pounds; should think if the heat outside the boiler had united, that there had been fire in contact with it; I would, taking the piece shown as a sample, think not if it had been colored. The piece of rolling shown seems the metal supposed to have been done by colder; think the boiler could be injured by a cold water pressure and not be noticed at the time; General R. L. Pearson, sworn—Resides in Washington, N. J.; am an engineer; was Chief Engineer and also Engineer-in-Chief of the United States Navy; am the patentee of the boiler known as the Martin Boiler; first commenced to build them in 1854; the tubes were made strong; attentions have been made to accommodate them to circumstances; the difference between these tubular and other tubular boilers is that these tubes are placed vertically above the furnace—the water passing through the tubes and the heated gases on the outside; the gases first pass through the furnace and return between and around the tubes; the advantages I claim are, first, the more perfect circulation of water both for the inward and downward currents; the more perfect circulation and mixing up of the gases; these gases come in direct contact with the tubes, and passing through between them, a greater amount of power can be gotten out of the same quantity of fuel; the boiler I also consider safer from the liability of water getting low in it, than the other forms of marine boilers, for the reason that the tubes may be but half submerged in water from the steam generated from the crown sheet below; and a portion of the tubes exposed to the water will carry up a constant supply of water flowing over the top of the tube upon the tube-sheet; another reason is, that the metal of the tubes are good conductors of heat—and held being in the water will be absorbed by the water below, whilst the other, or horizontal form of tube or the tubes, as soon as the water gets below the tube, has not the water flowing over it, and being surrounded with the water the heat cannot be carried off by the conductibility of the metal; my boilers can be made as strong as other marine boilers; it is possible to get a proper fastening to the top of the boiler, for the reason that the 2 iron nuts are a large as the shell, also by securing the brackets to it; I get the fastenings upon the tops of the tube-boxes by riveting the side sheets.

Q.—The brace coming in, at an angle as it must, from the top of the boilers to the side of the tube-box, is it not weakened thereby? A.—The iron would be required to be heavier in consequence; have not examined the boilers on the inside; think the cause of the explosion was, that the pressure was greater than the brazes could bear; do not think that the explosion was caused by the foaming of the boiler; have never known foaming to increase the pressure of the boiler, nor can I imagine the pressure at which the gas'ts' way; but suppose that it would stand to the pressure it was tested at; should the boiler have been overstrained at that test, it might give way afterward at a less pressure; the only cause of the explosion that I can name is, that there was a greater pressure than the boiler could bear; the constant surging of the steam by the stroke of the engine, at the constant working of anything, will have a tendency to weaken, in time, and that in proportion to the amount of the hammering, if any existed, at the time of the first test. I think the length of the hose shown are sufficient to stay the top of one of my boilers, measuring 18 feet by 10 inches at 60 lbs. to her square inch; but if I were building one for myself I would make it heavier; the iron now shown I consider very good; the iron being minched cold makes it much weaker than if it had been minched hot; do not think this has an explosion; do not believe the rupture was caused by a sudden generation of pressure, but by a gradual increase of pressure; the vessel, I believe, had not been quite an hour from her moorings, consequently she had not had time to evaporate the water long enough for the steam to come in contact with the heated metals, whereby the steam could become superheated or overheated. The water having to be reduced so low, for the reasons I explained in regard to the safety of the boiler, and as I have had no evidence to show that the boiler ceased or primed in going down, but to the contrary, Capt. SHIELDS informed me that the engine and boilers were working beyond his expectation. A gradual increase of pressure would be gradually indicated by the gauges. It is not likely that from the gradual rising pressure indicated by the gauge the engineers in charge would allow that pressure to rise beyond the point of fracture. Their attention might, however, have been called to something else. A burst would rise the decks, as found on the Chenango; the damage done is not greater than I would expect from a burst; have never heard of any complaint about foaming, after the boilers had been cleaned out by me; in regard to the dry pipe, originally, we took the steam from the top of the steam chimney; the steam chimney is usually kept very low on a men-of-war; oftentimes, in a heavy sea, the vessel rolling badly, the water would swash up into the steam pipe; the dry pipe accomplishes the object for which it was intended; should think the dry pipe was not put into the boiler to remedy any defect from lifting water; think the monitor boilers have dry pipes.

Thomas F. Rowland, sworn—Am proprietor of the Continental Iron Works at Greenpoint; examined the boilers since the explosion, particularly the point of rupture; the brass exhibited would show a pressure of 30,000 pounds to the square inch of section with safety; think the boilers may have been unduly strained by being tested by hydraulic pressure, which might have been the cause of the explosion; did not see anything else, on examination, that would lead me to this conclusion; did not notice anything that would indicate a weakened point along the course of fracture of the boiler; if the boiler had exploded with a pressure of from 100 to 200 pounds, the boat would hardly have come back to New-York.

Q. R. De Luce recalled: Testified that there were thirty-two lugs in the boiler; thought 30,000 pounds a very high estimate for a piece of iron to resist a boiler; the part broken amounted to about three-fourths of a square inch; therefore, he would estimate 30,000 pounds a high strain on a lug for a boiler; the rent of the boiler of the Chenango contained 144 square feet; multiplied by 144, the number of square inches in a foot, gave 20,736, which divided by 64, the number of days supposed to have been in the boiler—allow 64 inches to a day—that multiplied by 30 inches pressure, at which the boilers were tested, would give a strain of 31,000 pounds upon the day; but reducing the lugs to half the number, put a strain upon a lug of 62,000 pounds, which was considered at 62 thousand strength to require only 12,000 pounds; did not think the boiler was properly stayed.

Edward M. Dickerson was then subpœnaed upon the stand, and after giving a portion of his evidence the inquiry adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CONFISCATION OF REBEL PROPERTY.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Betts.

The United States vs. 1,750 Shares of the Capital Stock of the Great Western Railroad Company of 1000—Bond, &c.—Process in the action was issued Aug. 25, 1863, returnable and returned Sept. 15, thereafter. On that day, counsel appeared in behalf of the property proceeded against, and at their instance, and with the consent of the United States, further proceedings in court were "laid over," or postponed one week. Intermediate steps in court in relation to the case continued to be taken between the libelants and parties seeking to contest the suit, until April 5, 1864, when on motion of the United States Attorney for a final decree of condemnation and forfeiture of the property issued in the suit the court decided that the course of practice followed by the libelant in obtaining a decree, by default in the second, was not adequate in law to authorize the final adjudication prayed for, because, (1) Henry M. Wiley, the party charged in the libel of information with a violation of the natural Congress, was not a resident of the State of Georgia, guilty of the offence alleged against him; and (2) because legal proofs were not furnished to the court that the property proceeded against had attached under the process in court, belonging to the said Wiley. But these matters being brought to the regularity of practice in a cause not contested in court, it was ordered by the court that the libelant be allowed twenty days within which to remedy proofs by depositions filed in court that the property had in the action had been regular, and authorized final judgment and decree prayed for by the libelant.

On the 6th of April last, Edward T. H. Gibson, of Brooklyn, was examined on the part of the libelants, before U. Commissioner of Deeds for the Southern District of New-York, and testified that he is the transfer agent of the aforesaid Railroad Company, whose office is at No. 54 William-street, in the City of New-York, where the transfers are kept in charge of the witness; that transfers of the stock of the company are made in that office under his supervision, and are not made at any other place than at said office, in the City of New-York; there is no other place in the United States where transfers of said stock are authorized to be made; no transfers are made on the books of the company, or can have been, without the surrender of the previous certificate.

The witness stated that he was personally acquainted with Wiley, who was originally one of the corporators of the company, and one of the original stockholders and directors, and continued to be a director when he left the City, June 14, 1861, and has not resigned; that 1,750 shares of the stock of the company have been issued to him and registered by him personally; witness has seen the receipts to said secession; no one has ever applied at the office personally or in writing for a transfer of the stock; Wiley left the City abruptly early in the morning of June 14 for the South, as witness remembered, without previous notice to witness, who had a special business appointment with him for that morning.

On the 18th of April last, Gen. Braggs (mistaken here previously nominated in the case) was examined before a Commissioner and testified the statements made by him in his evidency given on the 1st of March last, and further deposed that in the year 1862, after Wiley returned from New-York to the Southern States, he at the call of the Governor of Georgia, voluntarily cast aspersion from his plantation in Alabama to work for the rebels on the fortifications at Savannah; witness knew the fact and saw the negroes at work, and knew the men at work to belong to Wiley; had known one of them for years on Wiley's plantation on the Island. It was notorious on the works at Savannah that Wiley's slaves were at work on the fortifications there; they were not conscripted or forced to work by the rebel States; wages were paid to the owners of the slaves; the money was received by the owners for their services. There was no affirmed and public authority given to control the services of negroes. Witness had personal knowledge that supplies were furnished to Gen. Bragg's camp from Wiley's plantation, and took an interest in the matter from the fact that members of his family were connected with that army.

On the same day and before the same Commissioner in the City of New-York, Rev. P. Cayler was also examined as a witness on the part of the libelants, and deposed that he now resides at Mount Washington, in Bloomfield, Essex County, New-Jersey, but was previous residence, from 1858 to 1861, witness's acquaintance with Wiley and his family; he was in the habit of visiting at Wiley's house; he was regarded by his friends, and generally, to be in his opinions and conduct a loyal man to the South and the rebellion; witness knew he owned a large plantation of negroes near Rubicon, Alabama, and was reported to be a man of large wealth and standing in society, and a rebel sympathizer and abettor; witness knew of his voluntarily furnishing slave-labor to the fortifications, and that he was in correspondence with the Secretary of the Confederate Treasury, advising as to

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

A report, hardly credible, comes from Newbern, under date of the 23d, that Gen. Wessels, with his force, was still holding the fortifications at Plymouth, the rebels having only gained possession of the town. Although the rumor was believed at Newbern, it is altogether improbable.

Reports from the Army of the Potomac assert that Longstreet's whole corps has arrived and joined Lee, taken position on the left wing, and "has been ready to march for ten days, with one week's rations in their wagons."

The First United States Volunteers, formed from rebel prisoners who have returned to their allegiance, and enlisted into the National service, has arrived at Norfolk, and will be employed in Provost Guard duty there. It numbers over six hundred men, and is commanded by Col. Wm. H. Gunze.

Col. Wilcox, of the Eighth South Carolina Regiment, was captured last week at his home in the northeastern part of that State, by a scouting party of the One Hundred and Thirty-ninth New-York Volunteers. He would not surrender until fired upon, and was wounded in five places, though not fatally.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Hale introduced a bill which provides that no naval officer shall be retired under the age of sixty-two, and whose name shall not have been borne upon the Navy Register forty-five years after the age of sixteen. Mr. Wilson introduced a joint resolution appropriating $25,000,000 for the arming, equipping, and pay of the one hundred day troops from the Northwest. Mr. Wilson also introduced a bill for the increase of the number of cadets at West Point. The bill establishing a postal money-order system is a law. The National Currency Bill came up as the special order, and was discussed until the adjournment, without action.

In the House, yesterday, the Internal Revenue Bill was the leading feature under consideration. Several important amendments were adopted. Among others, one by Mr. Frank, of New-York, providing that an income not exceeding $600, and not more than $10,000, a tax of five per centum shall be imposed; on incomes of $10,000, and not exceeding $25,000, a tax of seven and a half per centum shall be imposed, and on incomes of over $25,000, a tax of ten per centum shall be imposed. During the evening session several bills were passed, giving land to rail and wagon post roads, and a bill was reported to secure to soldiers and sailors homesteads on confiscated lands, when the House adjourned.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday and transacted a large amount of business. An ordinance appropriating $800,000 (making $2,000,000 in all) for the construction and completion of the new County Court-house was adopted. The money is to be raised on a six per cent loan, upon bonds to extend twenty-one years, as authorized by a recent act of the Legislature. The Mayor sent in two veto messages, one in regard to bills for iron-work upon the building put up for a drill-room, and one in protest for the sanitary Fair, in Fourteenth-street, amounting to $4,931 56. The work covered by these bills could have been done, he shows, for $2,960 66 less than is charged. The other veto was on the Harlem Bridge bill. Both messages were laid over. The message, written a fortnight or so ago by the Mayor, upon the high prices paid for iron used in and on the new Court-house, was referred, without reading, to the special committee in charge of that work. The Committee on Annual Taxes were directed to report the changes in the county appropriation ordinance made at Albany, "at the instance of the Taxpayers' or Citizens' Association," and also to examine the Tax Commissioner's assessment lists, now being made out for the year, with a view to realizing the burden of taxes. It was intimated by Mr. Purdy and also by other members, that Mr. A. T. Stewart, who was active in support of the Citizens' Association efforts at Albany, is not assessed for anything like the amount of personal property he really possesses. The board adjourned to Tuesday next.

Mr. Chas. E. Losw, Collector of City Revenue, by direction of Comptroller Brennan, yesterday sold two new ferry franchises on the East River—one from the slip between Piers Nos. 32 and 33 to the slip at the foot of Bridge-street, Brooklyn, and the other from the same point to the foot of South 5th-street, Brooklyn, E. D. Mr. Andrew V. Stout purchased both at the price or yearly rental of $600 for the former, and $3,450 for the latter. These franchises are exclusive of any rights of wharfage at the landing points, which are held by private parties, with whom Mr. S. must treat to obtain landings and establish the new ferries. These franchises and that of the Grand-street Ferry, were included in the list of Ferry franchises put up at auction on the 11th inst., but were withdrawn and the sale postponed to yesterday, when it was announced that the Grand-street Ferry franchise was withdrawn for the present. The reason of the withdrawal is that a suit regarding it is pending against George Law, who is in possession of it, and largely in arrears for rent, but which, owing to a provision in the City Tax Law of 1862, prohibiting the Comptroller from employing special counsel, cannot be hurried, the official counsel designated by the law to attend to the matter having numerous other duties and business of the City to take care of. This is the last hold George Law has upon a ferry franchise without paying rent for it.

About 12 o'clock on Monday night a serious affray occurred in a saloon on the corner of New Chambers and Cherry streets, during which Jas. Cipoman was shot three times with a revolver in the hands of Henry Schlein, a barkeeper. All the shots took effect. The wounded man fell on the floor, and while down the barkeeper beat him in a terrible manner about the head and face. The victim is now in the New-York Hospital. No hopes are entertained of his recovery. Schlein was arrested and committed to the Tombs to await the result.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday, Mr. Williams, counsel for Horace Greeley, announced that Mr. Greeley had entered into a personal recognizance with Deputy Sheriff Riley in the sum of $1,000. The cases on the calendar of this court have been sent to the General Sessions for trial, and the jurors were discharged for the term. The court adjourned until Thursday morning, when the Greeley case will be taken up again.

The Live Stock markets are moderately supplied with animals for slaughter this week, beeves numbering 4,108, calves 1,897, sheep 9,130, and hogs 8,814. The warm, soft weather lessens the demand for meats of all kinds; besides, an abundance of cheap shad, with a good supply of eggs, still further detract from the meat trade. Beef cattle, though 500 less than last week, have sold slowly at a gradual decline, prices at Forty-fourth-street closing Tuesday, nearly 1c. ℔ lb. lower than the opening rates of Monday. About 150 head were left unsold for want of purchasers. Fat cattle brought 17c. ℔ lb. for the quarters, medium steers 15c., and poor thin oxen and old cows 12c.@13c., the whole averaging less than 15c. ℔ lb. Sheep are plenty and trade slow at a decline of 1c. ℔ lb., fat lots, unshorn, selling at 10c.—rarely 10½c. ℔ lb., live weight. Shorn sheep are worth 7½c.@8c., thin lots 6½c.@7c. Live hogs are selling quickly as fast as they come in at 6½c.@6¾c.

The reaction in Gold yesterday had a depressing effect in the markets for Produce and merchandise. Breadstuffs were cheaper, and generally less active. Provisions and Cotton attracted less attention, and closed heavily. Groceries were in fair request, as were also Hay, Metals, Petroleum and Linseed Oils, Laths, Lime, Lumber, Rice, Tobacco and Whisky, the latter closing with an upward tendency. The freight market was rather brisker and firmer.

The Stock and Gold market opened firm yesterday morning, but closed 3@5 ℔ cent. lower, after a feverish feeling through the business of the day.

The Union National Convention—No Postponement.

Certain members of our State Senate, with a few other gentlemen, have taken it upon themselves to address the National Executive Committee of the Union and Republican parties, by a joint letter, requesting a postponement of the National Convention. The letter is dated a month ago. It is a little singular that the Tribune, and other presses which favor the movement, should now, for the first time, bring the document to light. It is now hardly better than waste paper. Since its date, the sentiment of loyal men generally has been manifested so decidedly against the postponement that the committee have in fact hardly been able to consider it an open question. As representatives of the loyal cause, they are not the men to overrule popular opinion.

The motives of these gentlemen are excellent, we don't doubt, but their reasons are not. They say that "it is very important that all parties friendly to the Government shall be united in support of a single candidate," and they declare it to be their opinion that "such unanimity cannot be reached before the time now designated for the convention." What does this mean? Do these gentlemen intend to say that a convention ought not to take place until there is a perfect identity of feeling in respect to the selection of a candidate? There never has been such a national convention of any party. Invariably a diversity of opinion has prevailed in respect to the proper nomination to be made. Different States, different parts of the country, have different favorites. Not an instance can be found in our political annals of entire unanimity in such a body on the first vote. That unanimity is only obtained after the majority, or two-thirds, if that be the regulation, have united upon a single name; and then, however excited may have been the previous competition, there is always universal acquiescence. It is absurd to talk of waiting until the convention can assemble without a preference in any member of it but for one and the same man. Earnest men engaged in a common cause do not undertake to cooperate in any such way as that. They take it for granted that they will have their individual preferences, but also that these preferences will be yielded to the opinion of the majority. We have not a doubt that whether this convention assembles in June or in September, there will be found at the first ballot a heavier preponderance in favor of one man—and that man Abraham Lincoln—than has ever been exhibited in any national convention for the last thirty years. If previous identity of preference is a matter of so much consequence as these gentlemen represent, no convention has ever been so well prepared to meet in May the usual month selected, as that which will have in charge the Union nomination for the next Presidential term.

But possibly it is not mere unity of preference these gentlemen mean when they talk of impossibility of obtaining unanimity before the first week of June. They may mean unity of acquiescence. In other words, they may desire to be understood as saying that if the convention meets in June, and Abraham Lincoln is nominated, there may be a bolt, and that three months more are needed to arrange matters, so that the would-be bolters may either be reconciled to submit to the majority, or the majority may be reconciled to give in to the would-be bolters. If this be the argument, it is an insult to the loyal spirit of the country. Such bolting would be the worst form of faction—worse even than that of the Copperheads, for it would be committed under false colors. It is more criminal for professed Union men to do what is calculated to divide the Union party than it is for Copperheads to fight that party; for nothing but division can destroy its ascendency. If there are any such self-willed, reckless malcontents in the Union party, the sooner they are made to disclose themselves the better. They have no business in our camp. It would be insufferable if they were allowed to remain there the livelong Summer, whining and canting, to carry their factious ends. If there be men who have a disposition to bolt, unless they have their own way, they cannot be too early discovered, or too summarily put out of the party lines. The longer they remain, the more mischief will they be able to work.

The other reason urged for the postponement is that "upon the result of the measures adopted by the Administration to finish the war during the present Spring and Summer will depend the wish of the people to continue in power their present leaders, or to change them for those from whom they may expect other and more satisfactory results." If the war is not brought to a substantial end this Summer, it will not be the fault of the President. He has remitted the entire conduct of the war to the military skill of Lieut.-Gen. Grant, and that, too, with the almost unanimous approval of the people. Gen. Grant may fail, though we trust not; but if he does, it will be his failure, and not that of President Lincoln. It would be preposterous to refuse to renominate President Lincoln because of Gen. Grant's failure. The case might be different if Gen. Grant had been put in command of the armies contrary to the judgment and wishes of the people. But as it is, the people will no more think of turning against the President if disappointed in Gen. Grant, than of stultifying themselves. They know that the President has acted for the best, and in accordance too with their own judgment. Thus assured, they will sustain him in September as staunchly as they now do, even though Gen. Grant may not accomplish what all now anticipate.

The two reasons we have mentioned are the only ones given for the postponement. No others can be given; and neither of these has any real weight. The convention will be held in June, with general approval; its nominee, whoever he may be, will surely receive the support of all the true men of the Union party, and will be elected with hardly a dissentient electoral vote.

Fighting in Pieces.

We have made, during the past two years, an ample trial of the plan of subduing the South by fighting the Confederates with small and isolated detachments, and as it does not seem to work well, we presume there must be some flaw in it, and think it ought to be examined by the authorities. It was "inaugurated" by "Little Mac" on the Peninsula, and was not at that time criticised severely, as that gentleman was then looked on as a master in the art of war, and, consequently, at liberty to indulge in innovations. The main peculiarity of his battles was, that they were always fought by a small portion of his army against the whole weight of the enemy, and the result generally was that that small portion was well-nigh exterminated, and the survivors covered with unfurling renown before assistance reached them. It must be confessed, however, that the plan of always being weakest at the point of attack, however fruitful in glory, proved singularly barren in substantial results, and we abandoned "the siege of Richmond" with the somewhat diluted satisfaction of knowing that if, on certain days, we had had thirty thousand men when we had only fifteen, or if we had been there when we were here, or if it had been sunny when it was rainy, or if the marshes had all dried up, or Mr. Lincoln had been Queen Victoria and Mr. Stanton had never been born, Gen. McClellan would certainly have captured Jefferson Davis alive, and destroyed his entire army down to the drummer boys.

One would think this experience ought to have led us to doubt the wisdom of the "Young Napoleon's" strategy; but it does not seem to have done so. Grant, according to a Georgia paper, has always adhered to the paltry trick of never attacking but with an overwhelming superiority of force, but whenever Grant does not appear on the scene, our faith in small battalions and eternal justice does not seem to waver. In Florida we marched gallantly into the interior of a hostile country with 6,000 men all told, well knowing that the enemy was in direct communication with Savannah, but knowing nothing whatever of his force or position. When found, he was duly engaged for it is part of this new system of warfare, never to decline a fight against any odds, and after three hours of murderous combat, we came out badly beaten, covered with glory, and more determined than ever to put down this causeless and wicked rebellion. In like manner Kilpatrick started "to take Richmond," a town surrounded with fortifications, heavily armed, if not heavily garrisoned, and within easy reach of a large force of infantry with 4,000 or 5,000 troopers, and knocked up his horses, lost 150 men and some valuable officers, and was driven off with a few rounds of artillery. We do not blame him for having undertaken this extraordinary performance, for cavalry officers are always anxious to do things that look "dashing."

Then comes the Fort Pillow affair. We discover, since this stronghold fell, that it is weak; that it is worthless both to the enemy and to us; that it can neither obstruct the passage of the river nor keep it open. We presume all this was known a month ago as well as now; and if so, we should greatly like to know—though we do not wish to be impertinent—why 600 men were left to garrison it. If it was worth keeping at all, it was worth securing against the assaults of a band of mounted marauders like Forrest's gang; and if it was not worth keeping, they have much to answer for, who were instrumental in leaving even 600 men there, when men are so much needed at the great centres of operations.

The finest example of the plan of fighting in small detachments we have had since the Peninsula days, however, is afforded by the late battles in Louisiana. Matters seem there to have been so ingeniously arranged that not more than half our force should ever be engaged against the enemy's whole force at one time. Our troops were brought up in most masterly manner, in little driblets, and were beaten in detail as they arrived, thus proving conclusively that the next time they attack Kearr Sarre they will certainly finish him.

We shall not say how many men we have had during the last year scattered all along the coast, between Fortress Monroe and Florida, holding a succession of little posts, where our presence made no more impression on the Confederacy than a chain of corporal's guards along the Bay of Biscay would make on the Austrian Empire. But we may say that an army sufficient to take and hold the whole State of North Carolina, against the whole force of the Confederacy, a far larger army than that with which Grant took Vicksburgh or fought Chattanooga, has been used up in this fashion; and the result has been that the town of Plymouth, a place of real importance to us, is wrested from us by 10,000 men, our gunboats sunk, and the garrison, guns and stores captured.

In short, we begin to suspect, and it is impossible to avoid it, that there is more than we dream of in the policy of concentration—of massing our forces, and pushing them on the enemy at a few vital points. We only know that the first Napoleon tried it with a very fair amount of success; and though we do not wish to institute any invidious comparison between him and Maj.-Gen. George B. McClellan, we will say, that Austerlitz may be fairly set off against Williamsburgh or Gaines Mill.

Confiscation of Rebel Property—The Wiley Case Again.—We had occasion, some days ago, to speak of a decision of Judge Betts in reference to the confiscation of the property of Lizot M. Wiley as a rebel, in which, before condemning the property, the Judge required further proof that it belonged to Wiley, and that he had notice of the suit, and was a rebel. We publish this morning the final decision of the Judge in the case, directing the confiscation of the property. The District Attorney was able to furnish proof, which established beyond a doubt, that the stock in question was Wiley's, he being one of the original corporators of the company, and never having transferred it.

Additional evidence was also given, showing Wiley's complicity with the rebels, in that he sent his negroes from Alabama to work on the fortifications at Savannah, Ga., a voluntary act of his, which was amply sufficient to bring him within the reach of the Confiscation Acts. It seemed to us that the evidence before offered was sufficient on this point, but even the most unreasonable person could hardly claim that the evidence, as it now stands, does not prove that Wiley had assisted or given aid and comfort to the rebellion.

As to his ownership of the property, it was of great importance that that should be clearly shown. This proceeding of confiscation is no mild affair, errors in which can be easily rectified at any time hereafter. It is a very serious thing to declare a man's property forfeited to the Government, and every court does well to require conclusive proof, before striking such a blow, that it is to fall upon the proper party.

But where the proof is clear, there should be no hesitation in carrying out the provisions of the act; and it is well that this case has been so promptly disposed of. The judge refers to a newspaper report of a case in Kentucky, in which the court held the law unconstitutional, but says his own judgment is not overborne by that report. We have no fear that any such ground can be maintained. Certainly, thus far, the weight of judicial authority is in favor of the law, to say nothing whatever of the weight of argument.

We are very glad to see these rebel resources thus cut off. Thus far we have allowed too much of their property to be a help to the rebellion, instead of to the Union. They have themselves had no scruples, no hesitation about confiscating everything that they could. They will find that they are not to have the monopoly of the game.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy of Music.—Mr. Maretzek's announcement for the coming supplemental season will be found to-day under the proper "amusement" column. It states officially what we have already supposed and rumored, namely, that the situation will be the "Huguenots," and that the prices of admission are to be slightly raised, to meet the exigencies of the times. No one will dispute with Mr. Maretzek that the price of all kinds of labor has greatly increased since he first introduced his magnificent company to our notice. He states the bare fact honestly and plainly. There can be no levity on this subject, and we shall not provoke one by a useless discussion. Mr. Maretzek's record is clear. He has given us opera cheaper and better than any other manager. With opportunities that may never be equaled of raising the prices, he has steadily refused to do so. Who doubts for a moment that he could have made a marked increase in the rates of admission when he first came from Havana? We had been plodding through a series of brief seasons with the moment of recurrence; had heard of success, the oldest of operas. He came with a double company—a company so admirable, be it observed, that it has swept away every fragment of opposition—and a new repertoire. Either we paid too much for the old prices or too little for the new. Which was it? There can be no doubt on the subject, unless indeed, we freely admit that we paid too little for any kind of a company. The present advance will not place Mr. Maretzek in a better pecuniary position than the meanest of his predecessors. It is the child of necessity; the offspring of a monetary movement where to hesitate is to be lost. Without it the opera must be suspended; with it there is a possibility of going on until a further advance is rendered imperative. This is the state of the case. We are persuaded that no true lover of music will breathe a word of objection to the course taken by Mr. Maretzek. If he were to double the rates of admission he would still offer us a cheaper entertainment than can be found either in Paris or London.

Trot Record.

TROTTING AT THE FASHION COURSE, TUESDAY, APRIL 26.

The announcement of a trot for a purse of $100 on this track, for which there were no less than twelve entries, and in which the much-talked-of gelding, General Grant, who, it will be remembered, was most unceremoniously defeated last week by Stonewall Jackson, although at starting the odds were 3 to 1 on the former, attracted a few adventurous sportsmen to the Fashion Course yesterday, despite the lowering aspect of the weather, and the probability that a large majority of those present would suffer from a severe drenching ere they reached Gotham again. The existing doubts as to whether the advertised trot would come off or not, produced the attendance of only half the number who were interested in the event on the track, and the result was, that the whole affair was far more like a private trial than a public trot.

The little betting there was, prior to the event, was evidently regarded as a foregone conclusion in favor of Stonewall Jackson, and in the two (unfinished) polls sold, he fetched $25 in each, whilst in the first, General Grant brought $16, and Lady Collins $9, nearly the same prices ruling both the latter in the second. The betting was principally confined to offers, very little business being done. It opened with the offer of 2 to 1 that the winner could be named; followed by an evident desire to back Lady Collins against Grant at 20 to 12, and offers to lay 25 to 5 on Stonewall Jackson against Lady Collins.

There were some four or five vain attempts at scoring, the interim being employed by the interested parties in private dealings with the judges across the track, one of whom, by the way, seemed to be desirously anxious to declare off a previously made bet on the result. Good for the judge. After some four or five ineffectual attempts, caused by the nervousness and irritability of Gen. Grant, the trio left in the race, got off, Stonewall Jackson immediately taking a strong lead, which he increased at the turn, Lady Collins lying second, and Gen. Grant in her rear. Entering the home stretch, Jackson opened a wide gap, and increased his lead—the positions of the trio remaining the same to the quarter pole, Jackson evidently having the race in hand. Almost immediately after he "went up," and was followed by Lady Collins and Grant nearly throughout the back stretch. At the lower turn into the straight, all three were running, Jackson still having a commanding lead; but nearing the distance Jackson was pulled into a trot and came home the easiest possible of victors, distancing Lady Collins and Grant in 2:46. The track was but partially dry and exceedingly sticky. General Grant, who possesses all the form and requisites of a first-rate trotter, was so evidently nervous and scared out of all propriety, that nothing could be made of or done with him, and—and there is much virtue in a trial—if ever he can be tamed down and made to trot squarely, he will make an example of some of the finest one of these fine days.

The Citizens' Association.—The Committee of Citizens who visited Albany to protest against certain appropriations in the Tax Levy, although they have not reduced the aggregate amount much, if any, have succeeded in diverting large amounts from useless to legitimate purposes. This is the initiative of the work which will hereafter be performed. The increase of salary to the police, a matter heartily approved of by all our citizens, and which largely increased the levy, should be taken into consideration when the work performed is discussed. The finance of the new organization for good has been shown, and as the single object is the benefit of the City, the decrease of taxation and consequent burdens to the income, it cannot but daily gain strength and be prospered in the future to do still more beneficial and decisive work.

The Machinery Auction at the Fair.—The auction sale of the machinery exhibited at the fair took place this morning, Mr. J. H. Draper, auctioneer. A steam pump, presented by Bacon, of Jersey City, brought $300. The flax machine brought $240; the cotton gin, $150; the oscillating engine, $200; Austin's embossing press, $100; the Ericsson caloric hot-air pump engine, $315; the plaster machine, $240; one of Brown's seales, $45. The vehicles were all sold at prices much less than their actual value. The prices brought here in all instances been so very low that it is probable many of the departments, including the Library and the Curiosity Shop, will send their goods to auction rooms to be disposed of. At eleven o'clock to-day the auction sale will commence at the Union-square buildings.

TALLOW—Sales since our last, 180,000 lbs., at 13¼c.@13½c. ℔ lb. Messrs. Kenny & Sons report the business of the week thus: "The market for this staple during the past week has been quite active, and prices have greatly advanced. On Wednesday the demand for strictly prime was brisk, and choice brands were sold at 13¼c. On Saturday there were many large sales at 13c. for lots on the spot. To-day and yesterday prices of all grades rose rapidly, and prime lots in hhds. sold readily at 13½c.@13¾c., and some as high as 14c. The stock is now greatly reduced, and shippers find it very difficult to fill their orders for choice lots. The demand, also, for No. 2 on floats Tallow is active, and it brings full prices. There is a great scarcity of Yellow Oil and different kinds of Grease. We note sales of some good Yellow Grease at 12½c. The arrivals of Tallow from all parts have been very light, and the market closes firm at 14½c.@14¾c., the latter figure for extra choice lots. We hear of sales of strictly prime lots at 14½c., to be delivered a foreign hence. We hear of no Belcher's Association sales in the market at present, consequently the price is entirely nominal. The present great abundance of freight room for Great Britain has enabled shippers to fill orders at old limits, as in some cases they have got freight quotations to go forward. We trust, however, that the high rates of freight charged will not enhance the prices. Price this day 1856, 10¼; 1858, 10¼c.; 1860, 10¼c.; 1861, 9¾c.; 1862, 9¾c.; 1863, 11½c. ℔ lb.

TEAS—Are held firmly, but are quiet.

WHISKY—Sales since our last, 2,400 bbls., in bond, at $1 25@$1 30 ℔ gallon, the market closing in favor of sellers.

FREIGHTS—Rates were firm, by neutral vessels. For Liverpool, the engagements included 30 hogsheads Bacon and 700 tcs. Lard, at 18s. 6d.; 50 tons Oil Cake, at 2s. 6d., also, by steamer, 300 bales Cotton, at 3-16d. ℔ lb., and 100 pkgs. Butter, at 20s. ℔ ton. For London, 1,600 bbls. Flour, and 1,500 bbls. Oil Cake, at 1s. 6d.; 100 boxes Bacon, 20 casks Hog skins, and 500 Wet Salted Hides, at 18c.; 50 tcs. Beef, at 3s. 6d. For Glasgow, 50 tcs. Beef, at 2s. For Antwerp, 100 tcs. Lard, at 22c. 6d. For Bordeaux, a foreign brig with heavy Hardwood Staves, at $40. For Liverpool from Montreal, a ship with Flour, at 3s. ℔ bbl., and Wheat, at 6c. ℔ quarter.

MERMAN'S CRIMEAN BITTERS.

I have always refused to sell any of the compounds known as tonic bitters. I believe them, as a generally advertised, and composed of deleterious drugs; but from a trusted friend of the CRIMEAN BITTERS, backed by the certificates of Drs. Chilton and Pohle, of New-York, I have no hesitation in recommending them to my friends and patronizers. No other bitters company with whom in delicate and refined flavor and medical qualities of a tonic and alterative character. Their long trials in United States Hospitals, and subsequently, attest the beyond doubt.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1861, which provides that all Bonds issued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any State or municipal authority. Subscriptions to these Bonds are received in United States notes or notes of National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually, and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the first days of March and September in each year.

Registered Bonds are recorded on the Books of the United States Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercial uses.

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1, by paying the accrued interest in coin, (or in United States notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or receive them drawing interest from the date of subscription and deposit.

As these Bonds are exempt from municipal or State taxation, their value is increased from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levied in various parts of the country.

At the present rates of premium on gold they pay over eight per cent. interest in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

We believe that no securities offer to great influences to vendors as the various descriptions of United States Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private persons, or stock companies, or incorporate municipalities only, is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the difference.

The 10% duties all duties on imports are payable in specie furnishes a fund for the payment of interest on all Government Bonds largely in excess of the wants of the treasury for this purpose.

Instructions to the National Banks acting as loan agents were not issued from the United States Treasury until March 30, but in the first three weeks of April the subscriptions have averaged more than TEN MILLIONS A WEEK.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, and the Assistant Treasurers at New-York, Boston and Philadelphia, and by the

THE CASE OF HUTCHINGS, THE "LIGHTNING CALCULATOR."

There was published in these columns a few days since the remarkable cure of Hutchings, the "Lightning Calculator," so well known to the public during the many years he exhibited his wonderful arithmetical powers at Barnum's Museum, by the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Hutchings is represented to have been at the point of death, and but for the timely interference of the Doctor, would now be resting in his grave. This is a remarkable case, and worthy of the attention of persons similarly afflicted.

We think it is but just to Doctor Von Eisenberg to call public attention to this case. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, who, like the "Lightning Calculator," if not actually praying for death, are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, with not with inexperienced men, but counsel, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to answer his patients whether it is within his power to make them whole or not.

EARS TO THE DEAF.

Every man, and especially every woman, believes in his or her physician. There are philosophical minds which hold to an abstract faith in Allopathy, or Homœopathy, or Hydropathy, or some other sect or scientific cure, but with the world at large the belief is not in the system, but in the doctor. Especially is this true as regards aurists and oculists. The patient who has received his sight or his hearing is sure that the blessing could have been restored to him by no other practitioner than that particular one by whom his eyes or ears were opened. Dr. Von Eisenberg is among our best-known aurists. He has not had an ear as a further practitioner has seen and in where still, however, we believe above all others. But we know of who from whom him not merely as a surgeon, but as a benefactor. A recent case has been related to us, for the truthfulness of which we can vouch, though we can name no names. The patient was a lady who had been deaf from infancy, as a consequence of some of the ailments to which children are liable. Latterly the disease had taken an acute form, and the patient was subject to intense suffering. The deafness was rapidly becoming complete, and the general health breaking down under the physical exhaustion attendant upon constant pain. Ordinary remedies and ordinary advice were useless, and Dr. Von Eisenberg was called in. We need not repeat his diagnosis, for that would be only a list of hard names to the general reader. But he detected at sight the seat of disease, first in one portion of the organism, then in another, and with manipulation as skillful as his insight was accurate, he removed the causes, and the who, from infancy, had heard with difficulty, and latterly hardly at all, was restored first to partial hearing and then to perfect health. Dr. Von Eisenberg's advertisement reminds us of this case, which we thus briefly relate, though not at his solicitation. Let him that hath not ears, hear.

SIGHT RESTORED.

CONCERNING EYES AND OCULISTS.

Of the five senses, that which we call seeing is the most important and most valued. In proportion as this sense fails us, we are reduced to helplessness. Hopelessly destitute of sight, how slow would be our progress in knowledge, and how limited our sphere of action and usefulness. Endowed with it, the universe becomes a new creation, clothed with beauty and diversified by that infinite variety which never fails to attract the mind and heart.

For several months past this has been a practical subject to us. An inflamed condition of the eyelids communicating itself to the pupil, rendered the discharge of daily duties not only painful, but dangerous. Attributing it to the effect of a cold, we endeavored to drive it through the Spring, with the hope that with the return of warm weather it would entirely disappear. But in this we were doomed to disappointment. Summer returned, but not our wonted sight. What might have been the result, either of further neglect or of incompetent treatment, we cannot say.

Stating our case to a friend, he assured us that a similar one in his own family had recently been treated with entire success by Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Satisfying ourselves by more particular inquiries that the doctor is no charlatan, but a scientific medical and skilful, we concluded to seek the benefits of his treatment, which we have now reason to acknowledge is very great. Though but a few weeks under his care, the appearance of our eyes has totally changed. The pupil is now full and clear, and the lids are entirely free from inflammation. The doctor says that the optic nerve has been weakened and the retina assumed a chronic inflammatory state, affecting more or less all the other tissues, and threatening, if neglected, to end in Amaurosis. Ophthalmia, in the term we believe, which contains equally to eyes affected as were ours. Having obtained the much desired relief, we take great pleasure in acknowledging our satisfaction in the talent of Dr. Von Eisenberg, and in calling to the attention of others who may be suffering from a similar or even worse condition of their eyes. It is said that Providence provides an antidote for every bane. It is certain that the eye in, in these times, subject to severer strain than formerly. Let us be thankful, then, that as we increase the tendencies which destroy the organ of vision, the progress of science keeps pace with these tendencies. If not in advance of them.

ALBANY AND SUSQUEHANNAH RAILROAD COMPANY
(Late Ithaca line)
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS FOR $1,000,000.
FOR SALE BY MARIS & KANE, NO. 27 WILLIAM-STREET, NEW-YORK.

The undersigned now offer for sale $300,000 of the First Mortgage 7 per Cent. Bonds of the Albany and Susquehannah Railroad Company, (Ezra P. Prentice, President,) redeemable in New-York July 1, 1888, and convertible into stock at par within ten years.

The Bonds are in sums of $1,000 each, coupons payable Jan. 1 and July 1, in New-York City. They are executed to Daniel Drew and Alfred Bennett, Trustees, and secured by a mortgage which "covers the whole of the said road, including the right of way, necessary real estate, superstructure, franchises and appurtenances belonging to, or to belong to the company; and is the first and a preferred lien thereon, except the operation mortgage created by act of the Legislature of the State of New-York to be executed to the City of Albany, to secure the payment of the principal and interest of $1,000,000 of bonds, to be issued by the said city as a loan in aid of the said road, which two mortgages are by the terms of the said act entitled to an equality of lien."

The length of road is 140 miles, entirely within the State of New-York, connecting the City of Albany with Binghamton on the Erie Railway, through a rich and productive region, forming valuable connections with other railroads at its two termini, and opening another avenue from the coal regions.

The first division of thirty-five miles from Albany to Schoharie has recently been open for business; that portion from Schoharie to Oneonta, Otsego County, thirty-five miles, has been let, and is now in progress; the balance is nearly ready for letting, and proposals are now advertised for grading and bridging fifty miles beyond Oneonta.

The cost of the first division, including rolling stock, is about $1,000,000, in addition to which $300,000 have been expended on the balance of the line; total expended to Jan. 1, 1864, $1,340,000.

The income of the company to complete the road, including what is already expended, are $2,000,000 individual and town subscriptions to the stock, of which $1,140,000 have been already paid in; $1,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds, $1,000,000 Sinking Fund City Loan, and $500,000 guaranteed by the State of New-York, and payable one-half when the road is completed to Cobbleskill, forty miles; the balance when completed eighty miles to Oneonta; total, $4,640,000. Estimated cost of the road when completed, $4,340,000, or about $32,000 per mile. The Common Council of Albany have subscribed for the company, and the bonds to be issued by the City of Albany, together $2,000,000, constitute a total lien of $14,000 per mile.

NOTICE—TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY EASTERN DIVISION, formerly called the LEAVENWORTH, PAWNEE AND WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY, and all others whom it may concern: At a meeting of the Stockholders of the above named company, held at Leavenworth on the 4th and 5th days of April inst., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, By the contract of four parts between this company in the City of New-York, Edward Learned, Ward Learned, approved by this meeting, large and valuable concessions of his interests as a stockholder have been made by said Fremont to promote the speedy construction of the road; and, whereas, it is probable that similar concessions may be agreed to by other stockholders; therefore,

Resolved, That the said Learned, as the financial agent of the company, be authorized and empowered to negotiate, with any parties, who are the holders or interested in the said contract, for the transfer and delivery to him, as financial agent of such, and so much of said stock as such parties may be willing so to collocate—to be by him used, disposed of or distributed, in like manner and for the same purposes, as is provided agreement provided, with reference to the shares agreed to be transferred to the undersigned, as the consideration therefor, the said financial agent is authorized and empowered to mark and indorse upon the certificates of shares which may be retained by such shareholders, severally, or to which they may be entitled upon making any such transfer, that such stock retained or so entitled shares are full paid and non-assessable, and to provide that such marking or indorsement shall not be made as aforesaid in any case so as to apply or be of effect, as to more shares in this company than shall be equal to one-fourth of the number of shares so transferred; that such marked certificates of stock, and such shareholders respectively, and the transfer and such marked or indorsed certificates shall be deemed full paid for the number of shares embraced in such indorsements respectively, and the stockholders making the concessions and transfers herein before provided for shall forever after be held by the company free from any payments on, or liens upon, the shares so marked, or any other relating to the shares which they shall so severally transfer to said financial agent.

Resolved, further, In case it shall occur that from any cause any of the shares which may be transferred to the financial agent, shall be found to be in excess of the 25 per said contract, shall at any time be found to be wholly, or in part, to any other person or party, than the person or party who shall have so transferred the same, the said financial agent shall be and hereby is authorized, to transfer to such person or party, as shall be found to be the rightful owner thereof, the shares so erroneously transferred to him.

Resolved, That the holders of certificates, obligations, or other memoranda issued in the name or on behalf of the company, which are claimed to entitle such holder to full paid, or unassessable shares of the capital stock, be notified by the directors, by public advertisement, or in such other manner as the directors may determine, to present the same, together with any evidences of their right to require such shares to be made full paid or unassessable as aforesaid, to the Executive Committee of the company, in the City of New-York, on or before the 1st day of May, ending, the issuing of such notices respectively, in order that all such certificates, obligations, or memoranda may be adjudicated, and proper formal certificates be issued in lieu thereof, in so far as such holders shall be deemed to be entitled thereto, by said Executive Committee; in case any such holder refuse or omit to present his certificate, obligation, or memoranda, as aforesaid, and for the purposes and within the time aforesaid, or in case any of the evidences furnished as aforesaid shall be deemed by the Executive Committee to be insufficient to entitle the holder to such full paid shares, the officers of the company shall thereafter refuse to recognize or admit any liability of the company to make or issue full paid shares, on account of any such particular certificate, obligations or memoranda, or to treat the same in any manner as full paid shares, except upon the claims of bona fide holders thereof, being established by the proper case of law, or upon competent legal evidence that such claims are obligations on the company, in the event of any irregularity or defective equity in the claim of any holder of any such certificate, obligation or memoranda, the Executive Committee are hereby authorized to adjust the relative rights of such claimants, and to issue as said committee shall deem equitable, and to cause to be issued in settlement thereof such number of full paid shares as said committee shall so deem to be just and equitable.

Pursuant to the foregoing resolutions, and to directions of the Executive Committee, all persons thereunto are requested to transmit to the undersigned, at his office, No. 40 Pine-st., in the City of New-York, such statements, propositions and papers as will render the proposed benefits available to them respectively, and secure the same within the time limited in the resolution: viz. sixty days from the date hereof.
